

Infant Room Sensory Experience Permission Sign-off

Dear Parents,

Research has proven that when infants are exploring their world they are using their seven sensory modalities- seeing, hearing, feeling, tasting, smelling, proprioceptive (the body's motor development), and vestibular (the body's relationship to gravity). It is very important for us as educators to provide different learning experiences.

We have begun to enhance the sensory experiences in our daily curriculum. There are times that we might use food (i.e. pudding, cool-whip, water, or ice). Please complete the bottom of this letter granting us permission to use food as a part of sensory experiences.

The Infant Room Team

-----
I give permission for my child: _____ to participate in sensory experiences that may contain food. Here are a few notes about the food that we may or may not have introduced to them.

---

---

---

---

---

Parent Signature: _____ Date: _____